

Dear Friends of the Center,

Wolf Fest 2019 is at the Endangered Wolf Center on Saturday, October 12, 2019 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. This family festival has fun activities, events, exhibits and demonstrations for all ages. Members will enjoy early entry at 9:00 a.m. so join today for this exclusive opportunity to miss the crowds!

Wolf Fest features food trucks, adult beverages, animal demonstrations, many conservation groups, plus activities and games for kids. Guests will see some of the most endangered wolves in the world and leave with a better understanding of their critical importance in the wild. Wolf Fest lets us share this science in fun, memorable ways.

Conservation Ambassadors will introduce guests to animals from around the world, with opportunities to get up close for photos. Guests can also view puppies born this spring!
